A GRAND FUTURE.

Great things in store for Blount County if she will take advantage of her opportunities.

There is a grand future in store for this part of the south and Blount county is bound to get her share of the good things passing around, as her situation is among the most favorable. Well blessed with water and soil that will average with the best in this section, our crops are always good and never is there an entire failure. With work and industry the land here can be brought up to a high state of cultivation with a great deal less expense than the more fertile soil of the great north-west can be irrigated. Here, as sure as a man puts his seed in the ground he is going to raise a crop, while there with irrigation, there is still great doubt as to the crop, for those scorching hot winds, or the grass hoppers are still to take in to consideration. This is to our mind, the ideal farming country, neither too hot nor too cold a splendid place for all fruits which grow in a temperate climate and a place where all kinds of vegetables and grains give a good yield at as little expense as any place in the world, this country is bound to attract the attention of those unfortunate farmers who are starving to death in the west.

Besides being an agricultural country of great promise, we have an unlimited supply of timber, and wood is plentiful. No danger of any one freezing to death even if the Mercury did take a fool notion to go down below zero 25 or 30 degrees. While our mountains are bursting with coal, iron, marble and slate.

Our county is also a manufacturing county and will grow still more in this line, thus giving farmers a steady and sure home market, without any high freight rates before getting the farm produce to market.

The sheep industry could be made a paying one in this county, and already the hog industry brings to this county thousands of dollars. Feed is cheap and profits are large. Last Saturday the South Knoxville Stock yard handled 250 Hogs averaging 300 pounds, which were sold by the farmers of Blount county to packers at Knoxville. These hogs brought 4 1/2 cents per pound and that lot brought into the county the snug little sum of $3,375.00. Not so bad for one day, was it? Such little items as that mean something and does us good all over and makes us glad to be here.

The TIMES believe in this county and she ought to have a display of her resources at the coming celebration of the State's 100th birthday—so she can draw a part of the capital which is going to pour into the South in the near future. Thank God you are in Blount County Tennessee, and try to push her to the front all along the line.

Great Revival.

Wankan Iowa has passed through an excellent religious revival. The Churches of the city united in effort. Evangelist, W. B. Williams, of Atlanta Ga. and Mr. Alexander, of Chicago, conducted the meeting in the Boomer Hall, the largest audience room in the city, which was packed night after night. The work was deep and lasting. Mr. Williams is a splendid expounder of the word, fearless, aggressive, exposing the prevailing social sins of the day. The whisky traffic, Saloons, Gambling-cards, and the social dance, all are swept up before the public gaze by his masterly expose of their evil to society. Over 150 have joined the church, who have professed Conversion. The work still goes on in some of our churches. Messrs. Williams and Alexander are safe men far evangelistic work in our churches.—S. R. Ferguson, Pastor M. E. Church.

Charley Alexander is the one spoken of in the above and is well known in this place, having attended school here.

Robt. A. Tedford will take charge of the Jackson House. We suggest he needs a landlady.

A good, honest person, who means to pay his debts, will not get mad when reminded that he owes another something that is due.

Miss Nannie Caldwell, one of the efficient teachers in our public schools is confined to her home by Pneumonia. It is hoped, by her many friends, that she can be out soon.

Dick Webb, County Register, fell New Year's morning on the hard frozen ground near his home, breaking his left arm below the elbow and dislocating the joint at the wrist.

The meeting at McKinley closed last Sunday after holding over two weeks. It was eminently successful, 22 persons embraced sanctification. Rev. Campbell assisted in the work.

Capt. Sam P. Rowan left Wednesday for Nashville to look after Blount's interests in the lower house of the next Legislature. He paid in advance for the TIMES before leaving.

STRAYED:—On last Thursday a dark sorrell horse with bob tail. Will pay for keeping him. Any information of his whereabouts will be thankfully received. Apply to owner Jim. McKenzie.

Miss Edith Moore will begin the second term of her private Kindergarten school, at the Friend's Normal on Wednesday morning, Jan. 2. Tuition $2.00 per month; all material furnished free.

If you send direct you will have to pay $1.25 cents for the New York Tribune and the 1895 Almanac, but by paying a year in advance for the TIMES we send you the two papers and the book for only $1.45.

Don't borrow your neighbor's paper. He may lend it to you, but down in his heart he says, "I wish that fellow would subscribe for a paper of his own and quit bothering me about mine."—Ex.

Ben McGinley and Wife, of Unithia, spent a part of the holidays visiting Ben's mother at this place. The TIMES extends hearty congratulations to Ben and his Wife and wishes them a long and happy life.

The following persons have been granted license to marry since Christmas: W. P. Coker & Cordie Simmerly, M. M. Ledbetter & D. C. McClannahan, Hugh McAllister & Hettie Hix, Geo. H. Presley & Laura Waldrop.

H. M. Hook was the first man we gave a receipt for paid subscription in 1895. Early New Year's morning he came into the office and paid us $1.60 to send the TIMES, New York Tribune & Chicago Inter Ocean to W. G. Henry, of Brick-Mill, during the coming year.

R. P. Sterling, one of the industrious and well known young men of our county, gave us a pleasant call Monday and paid his subscription for 1894 and also for 1895 getting a ticket which gives a chance to get one of the plows we are to give to our readers.

If you want democratic reading as well as republican, come in, pay $1.30 and receive the TIMES and Memphis Commercial Appeal during 1895. By doing this you have a chance to win a prize of from $500 to 2,500. Rather snug amounts for these hard times.

It is well known that some time ago the college by the will of Mr. Fayerwether, of New York, received a bequest of $100,000. Lately Mrs. Fayerwether died and a suit was brought over the residue and the result is that the college here, along with other colleges, gets another share in what is left. The sum will probably be about another $100,000, although some place it higher and some a little lower. Of course it will be carried to the supreme court and if the decision is confirmed the college will be in great luck sure. We hope the money will come.

Dr. John A. Goddard is building an addition to his residence in East Maryville. He has also bought the lot between his house and J. T. Hanpa's and now has a young farm right in town. If the doctor keeps on spreading out over there he will soon be classed among the "bloated bond holders" of the land.

We are truly glad we have a great many subscribers who have sense enough to not get mad when we call their attention to the fact that they owe us by putting a blue mark on their paper. So many have come in this week and settled up we cannot give space to name them all, but we thank them and hope to continue to deserve their patronage.

Many people will gladly subscribe for a paper about election times, but it is the man who supports the paper all the year round that is a republican in whom there is no guile. If our newspapers are not supported in years when there is no elections, we would have no news papers when election year came and would soon have no party and no country.—Ex.

Lucian, the seven year old son of Mr. & Mrs. T. F. Cooper, died Saturday morning, after a very short illness of fever. He was a bright little fellow and his future seemed full of promise, but the Great Father above had use for him in His Kingdom so called him to that beautiful home beyond the sky. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of a host of friends in their sorrow.

We have received a issue of the young Men's Herald, published in the interests of the Young Men's Christian association of Atlanta, Ga. It is a neat little publication and has as its editor a former well known Maryville boy, Linton Tedford. His many old friends will be glad to learn of him being engaged in such a noble work and join with the TIMES in wishing him great success.

Miss Maggie Bond gave a social to a few of her friends last Friday evening. The evening was most pleasantly spent in playing games of various sorts such as crokinole—"freeze out" and etc. But after while our hearts were gladdened by the sight of some delicious fruits and cakes which every one enjoyed. We think Clay Cunningham won in the race that was run. At a late hour we all departed having enjoyed ourselves immensely.

Our old friend Riley Hayworth sent in the money to pay his subscription in advance and also orders the Chicago Inter Ocean to be sent to M. Hayworth, of this place. Riley is principal of the school at North Branch Kansas, and course he is making a success of his work for he is a young man of ability and energy and an honor to Maryville College from which he graduated a few years ago. The TIMES wishes him still greater success in the future.

The TIMES hereby move that the next legislature make it a criminal offence for two young people to get married—unless they tell the News-paper man soon afterwards so he can give it to the world in that issue. Here Rankin McConnell and Miss Cora Bayless were married and we did not find it out in time. We didn't think Rankin would do us that way, but we wish him and his excellent lady much joy.

Edgar Kidd was seen hauling a bedroom set out of town, last week, and Monday while helping to hang up a beef that his father had butchered, he was dreaming of the future, or something of that kind, and let the beef slip through his hands badly cutting his fingers on a bone. The little finger was nearly cut off and the others cut to the bone. We are sorry of this last accident, but hope it will not in any way interfere with any plans he has made. Of course we don't mean to say all this means anything unusual as the furniture might have been his father's and the beef might have been cold and slick, or it never would have slipped through his hands.

Card Of Thanks

We take this way in expressing our most sincere thanks to the friends, who so kindly gave us help and sympathy in our recent sad trial, the sickness and death of our little son.—Mr. & Mrs. T. F. Cooper.

School will begin at the public school building in Maryville Monday with Mrs. McTeer and Misses Cunningham & Cadwell as teachers which is a sufficient guarantee of its successful management since these teachers have been very efficient in their work in the Public school.

It is very important that all those who attended the Public school should continue their studies as much time will be required to get the students who remain out of school for six months to where they now are.

Seven papers for $2.00! Get your reading matter for 1895 for almost nothing.

Just think of it! Seven papers for only $2.00! You can get them by paying in advance for the TIMES. Come quick! Here is a list of the seven papers you can take for 1895 for only $2.00. The TIMES, Chicago Weekly Inter Ocean, New York Weekly Tribune, American Farm News, Womankind, Inter-state Poultryman and the American Farmer. Did you ever hear of such good reading at so low a rate? Are you going to let this offer slip by? We don't believe you are. Come in right away.

Here is something, taken from an almanac, that will do for local news: It takes eleven pounds of milk to add one pound of live weight to a calf and an ox that weighs 1,300 pounds will consume twenty-nine pounds of hay in twenty-four hours, to keep from losing weight. If he is to fatten he must have twice that quantity, when he will gain two pounds a day. That is one pound of live weight to eleven pounds of good hay. To obtain fifty cents per hundred pounds for his hay a farmer must sell fat steers at $5.50 per hundred pounds. Eggs are considered at a low price when they sell for only a cent each, but it is estimated that two cents a week will feed a hen, and consequently, if she lays only two eggs a week, worth two cents she will pay for her keep. If she lays three eggs a week, at twelve cents a dozen, she yields a profit of fifty per cent on the cost of her food. Some very persistent figuring is often resorted to in order to bring the old hen in debt, but with eggs selling at only one cent each, if she will only half do her duty, she can discount all other stock on the farm.—Livonia (N. Y.) Gazette.—Come in and pay $1.10 and get the TIMES and a poultry Journal that will tell you how to make the most money out of your chickens.

THIS IS FOR OUR READERS WHO LIVE OUTSIDE OF BLOUNT COUNTY.

We will give you two more weeks in which to pay your subscription up to date and in advance. If you pay up to date we will discontinue the paper so if you want it longer you must pay in advance and as soon as your time is out we will stop the paper. If you do not pay up in the next two weeks and let us stop the paper at the end of that time with you owing us, we will publish your name with the amount you owe us and also send the account to the Sheriff, or some other officer of the county in which you live for collection. you must not think this is too hard for we have lost so much money by sending papers outside of the county that we never intend to send another until it is paid for in advance. So send in your money within the next two weeks, or the paper will be discontinued and your name published, no matter who or what you are. We must and will have what is due us, or people shall know the names of those who have been taking the paper and never paying for it. Your paper will be marked this week if your time is out so you will have no excuse for not sending in the money.

The American Farm News. For the Farmer and his family. This monthly has gained its immense circulation, solely on its merits as a journal for the practical farmer. It aims to present to its readers such articles as will be of practical assistance to them in their daily work on the farm. Stand by the American Hen. Farmers must bear in mind that poultry is the most profitable industry of the farm. The poultry should be carefully bred and cared for. This industry should receive more attention and the stock, like that of cattle, horses, hogs and sheep, improved. The Inter-State Poultryman, a Journal devoted entirely to the culture and care of poultry, should in the hands of every farmer.
